Good NEWS

Pastor Sam Coleman

Courageous

"Be strong and very courageous. Be careful to obey all the law my servant Moses gave you; do not turn from it to the right or to the left, that you may be successful wherever you go. Keep this Book of the Law always on your lips; meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do everything written in it. Then you will be prosperous and successful. Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the Lord your God will be with you wherever you go."

JOSHUA 1:7-9

God spoke these words to Joshua for the people of Israel before they ever stepped foot into the promised land and had just finished wandering the desert for 40 years. The Lord was reiterating his covenant with the people of Israel that he had made with their forefather Abraham in promising that his descendants would dwell in "The land flowing with milk and honey." This same promise holds true for us. These verses set the theme for our sermon series at Charity this fall and create a foundation for us as a body of believers and individually in a world that often seems crazy and chaotic.

Pastor Sam
Coleman

I want to state a couple of observations.

- First - God's promises always come true even amid humanity's ability to have free will in either choosing to follow the Lord or follow their own way.
- Second - Understanding what God says about life and our daily decisions is extremely important.

Knowing God's law in our hearts, meditating on His Words, and walking in obedience is the way that we can experience success in ways that really matter.

- Third - God wants us to experience success. He wants us to not only enter the Promised Land but flourish and thrive even though the Promised Land was filled with battles. But the battles were the place the Lord would ultimately show his amazing miracles, power, provision, and strength.
- Fourth - God says over and over again, "Be Strong and Courageous." This phrase is the theme of the entire book of Joshua and God promises that if the people trust him, follow him in obedience, then "The Lord will be with you wherever you go."
- Fifth - The people were given the opportunity to trust the Lord and conquer the Promised Land. And they did, and God's promise came true. They conquered, overcame, and came to possess the Promised Land.

Strength and peace amidst our change

Five hundred years before Christ, the Greek philosopher Heraclitus of Ephesus stated, "The only constant in life is change." It seems so true. We know that God's Word is the only constant in life, and it is the final authority in all matters of faith and life. Pastor Sam wraps up the summer sermon series "Charity Faith Journey" in August. He will have covered Charity's mission statement of "being a shelter in Jesus Christ, welcoming all into faith and fellowship, and preparing disciples for meaningful service...through the transforming work of the Holy Spirit." Then concludes by covering four elements of Charity's vision statement, healing, gifted, empowered and released. It is timely that we revisit (and embrace) the inspiration for Charity's call, the prophetic word given to our congregation and Pastor Bob Nordvall through Pastor Fred Thoni in August of 2000. This prophetic word, Oaks of Righteousness, is also shown on this page.

Many times when a change in our circumstances happens, it is uncomfortable and unwelcome. Lord knows, Charity has gone through its share of change. The apostle Paul wrote to the church in Philippi, "...for I have learned to be content whatever the circumstances. I know what it is to be in need, and I know what it is to have plenty. I have learned the secret of being content in any and every situation, whether well fed or hungry, whether living in plenty or in want. I can do everything through him who gives me strength." Philippians 4:11-13 And just a few verses before this, Paul shared with them the peace that Christ offers, "Finally brothers, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is admirable - if anything is excellent or praiseworthy - think about such things. Whatever you learned or received or heard from me, or seen in me - put it into practice. And the God of peace will be with you." Philippians 4:8-9

During the Sunday sermon on August 15, Pastor Sam shared a quote from Charles Swindoll called "Attitude," which reads in part, "The remarkable thing is we have a choice every day regarding the attitude we embrace for that day. I am convinced that life is 10 percent what happens to me and 90 percent how I react to it. And so it is with you... we are in charge of our Attitudes." I believe that the "secret" of being content that Paul spoke of was the attitude he trained himself to choose each day and his reliance on Christ. We can do that too. And as Chuck pointed out, it IS genuinely remarkable how we have that opportunity every day. Let us, as a Charity family, embrace the strength and peace that God offers. And then let us be continually grateful for His provision.

Oaks of Righteousness

The Lord God would say to you, Charity Lutheran, that I am with you.

And I have made you to be a terebinth; You are an oak in the midst of time.

Where there are storms upon the land, Even as the storms come across the prairies with fierceness,

I have called you to be an oak in the midst of this time.

And to stand, and to stand, and to continue to stand.

For you are a shelter -

You are a haven to many that I will draw under your mighty branches.

I have established you; and I have planted you.

I have raised you up from a seed and made you strong in my might and in my power.

And it is for this time, and for the days ahead that I have called you

To be in this place.

For the storms will continue to come,

But I am with you;

And I am your strength.

I am the source of life that runs through you;

For you are My oak of righteousness.

And I am with you; and I will stand with you,

And no one shall take you down.

For you are My tree,

You are My oak,

You are My terebinth, Says the Lord."

Amazing Grays to visit Circle C in September

The Amazing Grays will meet at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 14., at Circle C Ranch. Dinner will be catered with a suggested price to cover the cost of the meal.

Circle C is located at 15821 Cattle Drive, Baldwin, 10 miles north on Highway 83. Watch for the large Circle C sign on the corner and turn east.

After dinner, Sarah Coleman will speak about how Circle C began and what takes place out there. Please RSVP to Renee so we know how many meals to order.

If you have any questions, please contact Renee Walz (400-1201) or Kathy Wermager (390-7587).

Call Committee Report

Greetings from the Call Committee! We held one meeting in August and are gearing up to meet more often now that a new school year is underway. Beth attended a Vision Council meeting and is working to coordinate our work with what the Council is planning to do this fall.

We continue to look at the suggestions Rev. Fruhling shared with us at our July workshop and implement those we feel will help us make this call process as successful as possible. We encourage anyone from the congregation to contact us with questions or concerns. Our email address is: call.committee@charitylutheran.org.

Check the newsletter every month for the latest updates on this process, and please continue to pray for us. We know God is guiding us.

Committee members: Beth Allen, chair; Adam Berglund, vice-chair; Andrea Collin, secretary; Melissa Hill, Laura Kourajian and Scott Carter.

RALLY DAY QUICKLY APPROACHES

New service times begin Sept. 12

Blessings from the Vision Council. Where has our summer gone? It has been a wild and crazy summer. Rally Sunday is right around the corner, and there are small groups starting up again. We will be worshiping at 9 and 11 a.m. beginning Sunday, Sept. 12. Our attendance continues to grow, and we keep seeing new faces. If you see someone you don't know, introduce yourself and welcome them to Charity.

John Seedorf
VC president

As it says in Proverbs 3:9-10: "Honor the Lord with your wealth and with the first fruits of all your produce; then your barns will be filled with plenty, and your vats will be bursting with wine." We appreciate your continued faithfulness in giving. Charity does provide the Ramsey + website and class for all Charity Members. Watch for a new FPU class to start in September. If you want more information feel free to contact me.

While we are in transition, a verse to pray is Romans 12:12; Rejoice in hope, be patient in tribulation, be constant in prayer. Continue to lift up our awesome staff in prayer, our congregation and the nation in this time of uncertainty.

As always, if you have any questions feel free to contact anyone on the Vision Council, call me personally, or send an e-mail to vision.council@gmail.com or call 701-426-9768. Thank you.

I love this theme and know that God is directing us at Charity just as he did the people of Israel so many years ago to trust that his promises are true, know his word and walk in obedience, and experience success in all the right ways. Then to experience his presence wherever we go and accomplish the mission and vision He has set for Charity.

In Joshua's final appeal to the people of Israel to continue following the Lord, he makes this amazing statement in Joshua 24:15. "But as for me and my family, we will serve the LORD."

As we go through this same process in our life as a congregation and in our individual lives, I pray that we would make that same declaration with all our hearts. And may we come to possess the promise the Lord has for us.

The time is ripe for harvest

It's harvest time across the state.

Gardens are abundant with tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and in a month or so, pumpkins.

Fall is a wonderful time of the year and most welcome after summer's intense heat and smoke. (What did that bring to mind?)

Fall is also the time of year to prepare for winter. That means harvesting, canning and buttoning up the gardens and fields for the first freeze.

God's word contains so much gardening advice. Many analogies and Jesus' parables centered around seeds and growing. I love that. However, I'm still a little bummed about the fig tree (Mark 11:12-25).

Recently a devotion brought to mind the cycle of prosperity and how it mirrors gardening. Think about having one grain of wheat.

It's not enough to grind into flour and make a loaf of bread. But, if you plant that single seed, let go of it, allow it to die and break open in the soil with a bit of rain becomes a fresh new stalk of wheat and that one tiny seed becomes many.

If you continue to do this, before long, you will have a field of wheat. More than enough to provide for you and many others. Eventually, you can share the seeds so others may grow. Matthew 25:14-30 provides a solid example of how we need to use money as a tool and not an object of worship.

Biblical principals also ask that we give our "first fruits" back to God, who makes all things grow. As an avid gardener, I know how valuable those first tomatoes are to my family. The first fruit to ripen is perfect in color and without blemish as the insects or birds have not yet discovered it. We also grow tired of those tomatoes after dealing with the many pounds that follow those first warm, ripe tomatoes.

Oh, it's so difficult to give those first tomatoes away, painful. And, yet, they are not the only ones coming our way. There will be many more. So it is with life.

It's not easy to be generous when planning for uncertain futures, yet it's the one thing that God asks or rather challenges us to do.

The Bible has some 2,000 verses about money, tithing and possessions. That's twice as many Bible verses about money than faith and prayer combined. Yikes.

It must be pretty important to pay attention to the subject of prosperity according to God's word. Over the years, I have learned it's not money but the love of money and possessions that can trap us. I have never run out of things I need. I haven't been denied most of my wants and desires either.

I read an old German saying about how God can't fill your hands if you don't open them and let go of what you are holding. A difficult lesson indeed growing up with Depression-era parents.

I'm practicing generosity this year in both thoughts and deeds, keeping in mind this verse from Genesis 8: 22, "As long as the earth endures, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night will never cease."

Isn't that reassuring?

A Charity Mission Moment • Martin Luther School

Martin Luther offers classical ed

It's back to school time! We are so thankful for your support and partnership as we work to share God's love with families and students in the Bismarck-Mandan community! Your gifts help us enrich lives by sharing Christ by providing quality Classical Lutheran education.

You might be thinking, "Classical education? What's that?" The classical education model is a time-tested philosophy that many of our Lutheran schools have been using for decades. In several of our LCMS districts, all of the Lutheran schools are classical. We are so excited to be able to offer this opportunity to the Bismarck-Mandan community! Here are just a few snippets of information about classical education.

Classical education helps our students learn HOW to learn. (This is a biggie!)

- Students in the grammar stage (grades K-5) are hungry to learn and absorb information, especially when it is presented in ways that work naturally for them.
- We have overlooked some of the time-tested ways of helping our students acquire knowledge that sets them up to be life-long learners and critical thinkers.

- We include memory work and daily group recitations that help students retain knowledge and make it permanent. It is a small part of the day but an essential part.

Classical Education values history

- All of history--the good and the bad—is important. If we avoid studying the past, we risk repeating mistakes in the future.

Classical education engages students in science.

- Students learn through direct teaching, hands-on experimentation, observation, and documentation to become science students. Students to learn how to think like scientists Classical education strives for students to develop mastery in mathematics.

- Classical education reviews students regularly in math facts and concepts in ways that work for students in the grammar stage.

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Proverbs 9:10

Classical Lutheran education is grounded in Christ.

- True wisdom comes from Him and

Him alone. The cultivation of virtuous living is wonderful, but rings empty if we cannot look to Christ and what HE has done for us! We share His love through out the day and thank Him for His grace and mercy. We recognize His work on the cross has completed what we cannot do.

This is just the tip of the iceberg when it comes to sharing the classical education model and its great value. We haven't even discussed music, art, drama, physical education, technology, STEM/STEAM, the value of Latin, and the quality literature used in our literacy program. There is so much more!

I welcome your questions! Feel free to contact me if you would like to visit about enrollment, especially if you have a kindergarten-age child, as this is when you genuinely have an excellent opportunity to begin that strong foundation.

Again, I praise God for your support for MLS! It is appreciated!

In His service,
